presents:

THE NATURE OF INTELLIGENCE

Part of our workshop series “Developing Natural Genius” for parents and educators

TUESDAY, MARCH 10TH 7:00 – 8:30PM

This workshop is designed to shed fresh light on the nature of intelligence and open up a fascinating model that shows not only different kinds of intelligence, but also the structure of what can be called the ‘engines of intelligence’ - a series of five different mechanisms that exist in the human and develop naturally as a child matures.

Presented by: Rafi Haham

Rafi works as a consultant and trainer in academies in Israel and in business organizations globally. In 1998, he was a part of a multidisciplinary team of experts that developed a new model of multiple intelligence. He is also the father of a Garden Road student and is currently President of the Garden Road School Board of Trustees.
